

Chinese Reds Near Shanghai

Penetrate Inner Line 10 Mi. Away

Shanghai, May 14—(AP)—The Chinese Communists, fighting toward Shanghai in confused and fluid attacks, appeared tonight to have penetrated the main defense ring, less than ten miles from the city at some places. (This dispatch did not mention locations.)

The Nationalist garrison reported all penetrations were "beaten back" but acknowledged withdrawal from Kunshan, Taichang, and Kiating, which, for the past week, have been the defense's advanced outposts northwest of Shanghai.

(The nearest, Kiating, is 14 miles northwest of Shanghai. The communist radio said Red troops had captured all those points and also Lotien, only 13 miles from Shanghai and 10 miles west of Woosung.)

Woosung, one of the world's most vulnerable ship passageways, resounded to the roar of the nearby fighting.

The latest nationalist communiqué said Red units had been beaten back around the villages of Shih-shan, Yuchung, and Yangchang, ten to 15 miles from Woosung. (None of these places shows on available maps of the Shanghai area.)

It was obvious that the Reds were aiming at the vital maritime gateway and that it was in great peril. This drive towards Woosung seemed to betoken Red intentions to take Shanghai. They could maintain a siege and let the American Economic Cooperation Administration feed this city of more than 5,000,000—but not if they block the Whangpoo. On the other hand, by blocking the river, they can halt nationalist military evacuations.

No Point in Taking It
There would not seem to be much point in taking Woosung unless the Reds intended to take Shanghai immediately.

On the second Red front near Shanghai—the southwest—communist progress appeared to be not so great as on the northwest.

A nationalist communiqué acknowledged withdrawal from Sungkiang, 16 miles from the city and 12 miles southwest of Lungwa airfield.

Airlines still were operating at Lungwa, but Chinese lines had planes standing by to take out key personnel when necessary.

Conditions in Shanghai were not much changed, except that brilliant weather succeeded Friday's warm rains.

On their southern front, the communists had penetrated about one third of the 750-mile distance from their Yangtze river headquarters to Canton, nationalist provisional capital.

Their advance forces, however, were already beginning to turn westward towards the Hankow-Canton railway. There they are expected to try to trap and eliminate the central China forces of Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, Hankow commander.

Hickenlooper Says AEC Gave Award To Avowed Commie

Washington, May 14—(P)—Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) charged today that the Atomic Energy Commission let a $3,600-a-year science scholarship go to a student after its own investigation showed he was a communist.

The Iowa senator told a reporter he has protested to the commission against this action. But he said that so far as he and other members of the senate-house atomic committee can learn the award has not been cancelled.

Declining to identify the student other than to say that he is enrolled at an eastern university, Hickenlooper said he is prepared to document his charge when the committee opens hearings May 23 on operation of the commission's fellowship fund.

The commission has explained that it does not require advance security checkup of a student when the course involves no atomic secrets. It explained this would menace "freedom of inquiry and education." It said a full investigation is required if the program of study proposed by the applicant involves access to secret data.

KILLED BY BEE
Mansfield, O., May 14—(P)—A honeybee's sting today killed five-year-old Walden Keith Vogel. He died at nearby Greenwich, about 10 minutes after he was stung.

U.N. Leaves Spain, Italian Colonies Until Next Week

New York, May 14—(P)—The United Nations assembly abandoned tonight all attempts to adjourn this week-end. It put over until Monday the last two hot issues—Spain and the former Italian colonies.

The delegates will tackle Monday at 8:30 a.m. CST. A Latin American proposal to take the diplomatic wraps off Spain. The disposition of the former Italian colonies will come up when action on Spain is concluded.

Late today the delegates approved a resolution asking South Africa, India and Pakistan to go into a round-table huddle over the problem of India's charges that South Africa discriminates against persons of Indian origin. The vote was 47 to one (South Africa) with ten abstentions.

The end of the assembly depends on how quickly they can decide on Spain and Italian cases. This may not come now until Tuesday as there are long lists of speakers in both cases.

Passage of the Latin American proposal favoring full diplomatic relations with Spain was in doubt with both sides claiming victory.

Contract Talks At Deere Deadlocked After 2 Sessions

Moline, Ill., May 14—(P)—Two contract sessions were held today between Deere & Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers, and a union official said the negotiations were deadlocked.

The meetings, which will be resumed tomorrow, are being held to draw up a new contract covering some 15,000 workers in the seven Deere plants in Illinois and Iowa.

John Livingston, UAW international vice president, reported the stalemate after today's sessions.

He told newsmen that on Wednesday he sent a letter to the Deere president requesting that the farm implement company head or other top official attend the talks.

"The company hasn't replied," Livingston said, "nor has any top official of the company attended the talks resumed yesterday. That sort of speaks for itself."

Livingston said he and Pat Great-house of Chicago, UAW regional director, have received authorization from Walter Reuther, UAW president, for a strike, "to be used at our discretion."

The UAW corporation council of the John Deere chain will meet tomorrow with heads of local Deere unions to evaluate the situation.

Says Welfare Fund Of UMW Pays Out More Than It Gets

Washington, May 14—(P)—The United Mine Workers welfare fund announced today it has paid out a grand total of $106,840,139 in benefits. And the announcement showed—between the lines—that money now is flowing out of the fund at a good deal faster than it is coming in.

How much faster is still an official secret of the fund's trustees John L. Lewis, Senator Styles Bridges, and Ezra Van Horn.

But, so far this year, outgo has averaged $2,265,000 a week and it is probable that this exceeds weekly income by at least $500,000.

This may be added evidence, if any is needed, that Lewis plans to demand an increase in the 20-cent-a-ton royalty on production which soft coal operators now pay into the welfare fund.

But Lewis is presently following a course of non-belligerency. Today's report said nothing specifically about increasing the royalty.

It was distributed by George Creel, author and publicist who is advising Lewis on public relations. He issued it on behalf of Josephine Roche, the fund's director.

Report Big 4 Agree On Trade In Germany

Berlin, May 14—(P)—American sources said the three western powers and Soviet Russia reached "almost complete agreement" today on the mechanics of restoring Germany's east-west trade and that a final agreement is likely next Wednesday.

From then on, said Lawrence F. Wilkinson, economic adviser to the U.S. military government, international German commerce should start leaping. At the moment, despite the lifting of the blockade, it is merely a dribble.

Simultaneously the United States, Britain and France approved limited self rule for western Berlin and the Russians declared their intention to resume reciprocal deliveries to members of the inter-allied reparations agency in return for reparations delivered to her from western Germany in the past.

The economic advisers of the Big Four military governments would see three days of conferences late this afternoon.

Russia seeks the revival of old east-west German trade agreements which were suspended when the Russians blockaded West Berlin last June. The western powers have contended the agreements are outmoded, violate the current supply-and-demand markets and are based on a single mark currency for all Germany, since supplanted by west marks and east marks for which there is no completely satisfactory exchange formula.

Wilkinson said the meetings would be suspended until Wednesday, to give all a chance to work out new trade charts. He said it is likely that the "full agreement" will be signed, sealed and delivered that day.

Military government authorities praised the atmosphere of the meetings, the first four-power talks held in Berlin since last spring. They said the post-blockade problems were vexing, but now appear solvable.

Steelworkers Ask Pay Hike

BOY, TRAPPED UNDER SOYBEANS, UNINJURED

Danville, Ill., May 14—(P)—Nine-year-old Larry Fowler escaped serious injury and possible death today when he fell into a bin of soybeans and was buried under 10 feet of beans for a half hour.

His father, Morton, and neighbors worked with scoop shovels to free the child. Larry suffered shock and bruises.

The youth was helping his father load a truck with beans when he fell. The Fowlers live in nearby Collins.

Holland Tunnel Is Cleared Of Rubble After Blast, Fire

New York, May 14—(P)—Steel-helmeted crews removed tons of rubble from the blast-seared Holland tunnel today in efforts to reopen the two-mile long tube for its daily load of 46,000 cars and trucks.

The underwater artery, linking New York and New Jersey, was reported basically undamaged by the fire and blasts that ripped through it yesterday, shearing away 250 feet of its inner ceiling, when a big truck, loaded with a cargo of carbon disulphide, blew up in the east-bound shaft of the tunnel.

Sixty-six persons, mostly firemen and tunnel workers, were treated for injuries.

Only one truck driver, Herbert Daily, 39, of Weehawken, N. J., was severely injured. He was treated at a hospital overnight but was released today.

Normal vehicular traffic may be resumed tomorrow.

29 Speedway Fans Injured As Part Of Stands Collapse

Indianapolis, May 14—(P)—Twenty-nine fans at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway were injured, two seriously, when part of a grandstand collapsed beneath their weight today.

General hospital listed Leslie Clark, 42, and 14-year-old Kurt Mahrdt, both of Indianapolis, as the two most seriously injured. Both suffered severe head injuries in the 15-foot drop to the ground.

The others suffered lacerations and bruises as they were thrown through the splintering floor of grandstand "B" overlooking the long southwest turn.

The floor gave way under two box seat sections as about 5,000 persons crowded into the old grandstand. Those not in the immediate area of the cave-in were not affected by the collapse, but later were ordered out of the stands by speedway safety officials.

Grandstand "B" is located beside a new steel seating section that was just completed this year as part of the speedway's rebuilding program.

Say 'Typographical Errors' Mixed Up Truman's Letter

Washington, May 14—(P)—A letter from President Truman that appeared to rebuke Speaker Rayburn and other Democratic House leaders was all mixed up by "typographical errors," the White House said today.

"No slap at any persons was intended," it was emphasized.

A picture of the letter, which spoke sharply of "compromisers" on the labor bill in Congress, was published in a union newspaper. It mentioned no names.

Rayburn and other friends of the president in the House recently tried, without success, to engineer a compromise to get a Taft-Hartley act repealed through the House.

When the typographic reproduction of the letter was called to the attention of White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross today, he said that he had checked the text of the letter with Mr. Truman and had discovered some "typographical errors."

One paragraph of the communication addressed to A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, read:

"The compromisers got nowhere as I was sure they wouldn't, and they never had any consideration whatever for me."

These 19 words contained two errors, Ross said after his huddle with the chief.

He said the president meant "compromisers" instead of "compromises" and that the end of the sentence should have been "never had any consideration whatever from (instead of 'for') me."

Springfield is the third capital of Illinois: Kaskaskia and Vandalia were the first two.

Seek Fourth Round Boost For 706,000

Pittsburgh, May 14—(AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers today formally asked for a fourth round pay boost for 706,000 workers.

The demand for an unspecified wage increase—plus social benefits including pensions—was made in letters to 835 steel companies. The letters said the union "desires to negotiate."

As the letters went out, industrial and labor executives waited for reaction from U. S. Steel Corp. and other steel industries. What happens in steel often provides the answer to what happens in industry generally.

First Formal Asking
The demands of the steelworkers are the first formally served on industry for a fourth-round pay boost.

However, other big CIO unions are falling in line and John L. Lewis, head of the Independent United Mine Workers, has served notice he wants more benefits for his half-million soft coal diggers. As usual, Lewis hasn't specified just what his demands are.

Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the United Steelworkers, hasn't indicated just what wage increases he wants. And he hasn't specified just what pensions he desires for the men who make steel.

The United Mine workers grant $100-a-month pensions to members who are 60 and who have served 20 or more years in the pits. The coal industry picks up the tab, through the 20-cent-a-ton royalty it pays to the union's welfare fund.

Wants Pensions
Murray Long has wanted pensions for his CIO members. And some people believe he won't be satisfied unless he gets at least as much, if not more, than the miners are paid.

Formal notification by the steelworkers was taken to conform to the 60-day notice required in existing contracts. Under provision of the contracts, the companies and the union are required to begin negotiating within 30 days.

If no agreement is reached by July 16, the union says it has the contractual right to strike and the companies "have the right to lock out."

The present contracts with the 835 companies run until May 1, 1950. However, they contain provisions permitting reopening for wage and social insurance issues this year.

Steelworkers currently have an average basic hourly rate of $1.68. They have received a 46-cent hourly increase in the past three years—18 cents in 1946, 15 cents more in '47 and 13 cents in 1948.

Special Tribute Paid To Americans Killed In Airlift

Washington, May 14—(P)—The armed forces today paid special tribute to the 28 Americans killed in the Berlin airlift who, says Defense Secretary Johnson, "gave their lives for their country in the same spirit as those in World War II."

Johnson announced that the National Military Establishment is sending special certificates of honor to the next of kin. These awards were authorized at the suggestion of Senator Wiley (R-Wis.), a member of the foreign relations committee.

Since the start of the lift on June 26, 1948, 25 air force men, one army, one navy and one U. S. civilian have died.

The Berlin airlift casualties included 1st Lt. Eugene S. Erickson. His next of kin was listed as Mrs. Margaret Cornelia Erickson, wife, 1205 State St., Collinsville, Ill.

Painters Protest Non-Union Painter Of Truman's House

Independence, Mo., May 14—(P)—An AFL painters union has protested to President Truman the hiring of a non-union man to paint the summer White House here.

Jack Cooke, business representative of the painters District Council No. 3, AFL, said today a registered letter had been mailed the president.

The object of the union's ire, John H. Moler, 67, of Independence, said he could not understand "why the union is so upset."

"I've been painting in Independence for 20 years and I've painted for the Trumans before," he said, "summer before last when I painted woodwork inside the house I said, 'Mrs. Truman, I'm not a union man.'"

"She said, 'That makes no difference to me'; that she knew I was a good painter and likes my work."

Say U. S. Will Have 3 Billion Deficit In 1950

Washington, May 14—(P)—Experts who advise congress on taxes figured today that the government would run up a $3,000,000,000 deficit in the next fiscal year which begins July 1.

They used the presidential budget estimates on expenditures.

President Truman, in his budget message last January, estimated that outgo would exceed income by about $900,000,000 in those 12 months.

The government has a national debt of more than $251,500,000,000 right now.

The congressional tax advisers say they believe the government's income will fall off with a "moderate" business decline next year. The flow of tax money into the treasury fluctuates pretty much with the rise and fall of individual and corporate earnings, because of the income tax.

The experts said they made their assumption of a lower level of business activity after consulting "outgoing" economic analysts in private business and government.

State Department Warns Soviet May Attack In Europe

Washington, May 14—(P)—The State department issued a new warning today of danger of a possible Russian attack on western Europe, despite the easing of cold war tensions brought by the end of the Berlin blockade.

A new power balance must be created in Europe, the department insisted, because present western defenses are so weak they actually "invite military aggression."

Although Russia was not specifically named in this connection, there was no doubt Russia was meant.

The warning climaxed the first complete official statement of administration plans—and arguments—for rearming western European nations in the Atlantic pact, beginning with a $1,130,000,000 military aid program this year.

The statement came in the form of a "peace paper." It outlined the six point military aid plan for western European and other non-Communist nations. It also gave a preview of the reasons to be advanced to congress for the plan's adoption.

Mrs. Brokus Found Guilty On Charge Of Kidnaping Boy

Macomb, Ill., May 14—(P)—Mrs. Joan Brokus, 21, was found guilty tonight of kidnaping a seven-year-old boy.

A Circuit Court jury fixed her sentence at one year in the State Penitentiary. Mrs. Brokus is an itinerant mission worker.

The jury was out almost four hours. Mrs. Brokus heard the finding with no show of emotion. Her attorneys said they will appeal.

Mrs. Brokus was convicted of abducting Richard L. Strickler, seven, of Dubuque, Iowa, from a Macomb hotel on Sept. 29, 1948. She was arrested in Denver last January, while with the child.

The defendant testified today that she left the hotel with Richard after plans to wed the boy's father, Wesley, fell through.

She insisted that she had intended to return to Dubuque next August to marry Strickler when his divorce became final.

Also with her when she was arrested in Denver was Bonita Ann Jones, 18 months old, who since has been returned to her mother, Mrs. Ann Payer Jones of Pittsburgh.

Cahokia, Illinois, Celebrates 250th Date Of Founding

Cahokia, Ill., May 14—(P)—Thousands of visitors from Missouri and Illinois are flocking into this little village to help celebrate its 250th anniversary.

The celebration of the founding of Cahokia by early French missionaries began tonight with a dinner at St. Louis given by the Missouri Historical society.

"It is natural when one thinks of the first days of Cahokia and when one contemplates the marvelous achievements of the United States to have a feeling of faith in the abilities of man," Henri Bonnet declared in a speech prepared for delivery there.

Bonnet is French ambassador to the United States.

"I had a strong impression during my last trip home that such a feeling is spreading once more over France," Bonnet added.

"Close friendship between our two countries is an old and cherished tradition. I remember a letter which General Lafayette wrote some time before Yorktown to his young wife in France, in which he said that he was so elated by the growing prospects of victory that he dreamed at night of American and French citizens working arm in arm, singing together through the streets of their cities."

Gleaner Class Plans Banquet

Mrs. C. F. Janssen announced plans for a mother-daughter banquet May 19 at a meeting Friday of the Gleaner class of the Northminster church. A vocational Bible school will begin June 2.

Mrs. Walter DeShara, president, presided. The Rev. C. F. Janssen offered prayer. He also sang two solos, "Mother of Mine" and "Mother's Prayer." A duet was presided by Mrs. Clyde Vasconcellos and Mrs. George Coraor.

Refreshments were served by the Janssens, Mrs. Minnie Sperry, Mrs. Jennie McKinney and Mrs. Nellie Lewis.

Tammany Hall Puts Up Big Battle To Defeat F.D.R., Jr.

New York, May 14—(P)—Tammany Hall is putting up the battle of its life in trying to beat Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., for congress in the 20th district special election next Tuesday.

Young Roosevelt, first of the children of the late president to seek public office, has made Tammany the main target of his campaign attacks.

Tammany leaders have answered by calling him a playboy, immature and an interloper in the district.

They refused to give him the democratic nomination in the district after the death of veteran Congressman Sol Bloom, naming municipal court Justice Benjamin Shallock instead.

The republicans picked William H. McIntire, an insurance executive, Dr. Annette Robinson, head of a private school, was nominated by the American Labor party.

Roosevelt, lanky, handsome and affable, is running on the Liberal party and Four Freedoms party tickets. He has drawn large crowds at all of his appearances, leading some observers to install him as the favorite in the four-cornered race.

Eisler Taken Off Pole Ship

HOSPITAL PAYS FOR 1ST SET OF TRIPLETS

McCook, Neb., May 14—(P)—Twenty-five years ago, when St. Catherine's hospital was organized here, hospital officials decreed that the first set of triplets born in the hospital would get all expenses paid.

Today came the "payoff." Triplets, two sons and a daughter, were born to Mrs. and Mrs. Dale Vise of Wilsonville, Neb. Each baby weighed between four and five pounds.

The statement came in the form of a "peace paper." It outlined the six point military aid plan for western European and other non-Communist nations. It also gave a preview of the reasons to be advanced to congress for the plan's adoption.

President, Cabinet To Welcome Clay Back To America

Washington, May 14—(P)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay will be welcomed back from Germany Tuesday with military honors and a reception by President Truman and the cabinet.

Plans for receiving the retiring American commander in Germany upon his arrival at the capital were announced today by the National Military Establishment.

An honor guard, composed of men from all the armed forces, will be at National airport when Clay's plane lands Tuesday morning. Secretary of Defense Johnson and other military leaders also will be there.

Following the military welcome, there will be a reception given by President and Mrs. Truman in the rose garden at the White House. Invited to join in that reception are all cabinet members and congressional leaders.

Earlier during a conference in the Batery captain's cabin prior to Eisler's arrest, a representative of the Polish embassy in London protested strongly.

A Pole identifying himself as J. Panski of the embassy staff said he would report the incident to his chief.

"We are going to London to report all that has happened to the ambassador, Mr. Jerzy Michalowski," he said. "Mr. Eisler has made a long and strong statement, which we must submit to the ambassador."

Newspaper reporters and photographers were able to view the arrival of the tender with Eisler, although the small vessel had changed docks in an apparent last-minute effort to give them the slip.

Those who witnessed the transfer of Eisler from the Batery to the tender said four policemen picked him up—one at each arm and one at each leg—and carried him down three flights of stairs through the main lounge and down the gangway to the tender.

After that Eisler was described as having sat calmly in the small captain's cabin on the tender smoking a cigarette.

He was not handcuffed when brought off the tender, but Inspector Bray walked sideways holding him by Eisler's wrists. Other policemen surrounded the communist.

A U. S. embassy spokesman in London said the fugitive would be held in Southampton overnight and then taken to the Bow street jail and magistrate's court in London tomorrow to face extradition proceedings to the United States.

Southampton police reported a slightly different schedule. They said Eisler would spend the weekend in jail at the Southampton civic center and then appear in Southampton magistrate's court Monday, when an application would be made for his removal to the Bow street magistrate's court in London.

Bow street is the only magistrate's court in England empowered to deal with applications for extradition.

Berlin, May 14—(P)—American sources said the three western powers and Soviet Russia reached "almost complete agreement" today on the mechanics of restoring Germany's east-west trade and that a final agreement is likely next Wednesday.

ENLARGEMENT OF BOYS TOWN IS SYMBOL OF FAITH IN HUMANITY

Our daily diet of news runs heavily to tensions and alarms. This can't be helped. The tensions and crises are there and, as a nation, we have to stay informed to stay alive. Still most of us yearn for a little pleasanter reading now and then. Which brings us to a recent story out of Omaha.

It was an account of the dedication of $10,000,000 worth of new buildings at Boys Town, in the suburbs of the Nebraska metropolis. It was also a story of how faith can pay off in a tangible way in our rather cynical everyday world.

The name of Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan figured prominently in this story, although it was dated almost a year after his death. This was quite natural, of course. For the new building program, like Boys Town itself, was the fulfillment of Father Flanagan's practical as well as theological faith.

As a young man, Father Flanagan came to the conclusion that there was no such thing as a bad boy. He set out to prove his point in 1917. His capital consisted of a "bad boy" on whom he could test his theory, and a cottage in Omaha to house the experiment.

The young priest soon had plenty of material to work with. His experiment outgrew the cottage, and Boys Town was founded. The boys kept on coming. They are still coming, at the rate of 50 a month and with a waiting list of 3000.

Father Flanagan was not the first person to reason that juvenile delinquents and problem children were the products of bad environment and lack of opportunity rather than examples of innate wickedness. But few people ever devoted themselves so patiently, tirelessly and wholeheartedly to the task of proving that decent surroundings and kindly understanding will usually produce honest, useful citizens.

It is encouraging to realize that others shared and supported Father Flanagan's faith, and that Boys Town continues to grow and flourish under his successors. For the new group of buildings is not only a monument to the abiding success of an experiment. It is a monument to $10,000,000 worth of American citizens' belief in the dignity and decency of human beings.

FOR THE THIRD TIME

(New York Herald Tribune)

Again the senate has passed the housing bill, and again the great decision rests upon the house. This is the answer to America's need for slum clearance and homes. The issue has confronted our people too long; we cannot wait year after year. At this point the senate has spoken with an unmistakable firmness that more and better housing is imperative, and we hope that the house at last swings into line. The national temper is unmistakable; the best brains of both parties are in agreement on dominant aims and practical details. The final senate vote, 57 to 3, has a passionate authority that commands an end to distraction.

Senator Bricker tried to beat down the housing bill on a befogging amendment to forbid segregation as a price for accepting federal construction funds. It was a proposition that may have tried the souls of some senators, but the choice was plain—housing or no housing. In this futile and embarrassing exercise, the senate saw through the confusion and responded to the immediate welfare. Some who voted against the Bricker amendment may suffer political reprisal, but we trust that their courage will carry its overweighing compensations. Honesty has a way of paying off.

Three times the senate has earnestly delivered its verdict for public housing. Let the house this time stop its shilly-shallying. We must have housing.

POPULATION GAINS

(Chicago Daily News)

Washington dispatches report that the census bureau expects to enumerate 150,000,000 Americans living on April 1, 1950.

What the Second World war and war prosperity did for the baby business can be seen from this expected gain of 19,000,000 in 10 years.

The gain from 1930 to 1940 was a little short of 9,000,000.

The census men are fairly safe guessing only a year in advance. But note what happened to a great American when he tried to guess 70 years ahead. Abraham Lincoln forecast a population of 251,688,414 in 1930.

Lincoln's error of 128,775,000 was a natural one. He assumed that the past decennial gains would continue.

They did not, but why is a question which the experts have never agreed upon. The gains could have been maintained. Our French Canadian friends kept up their birth rate and the 60,000 Frenchmen living there in 1763 are now over six million and next year, for the first time, will constitute a majority of the Canadian people.

A HAPPY AFTERNOON AND EVERYTHING'S FREE!

Waiting for a ride on one of the big swings, these children are but a small group of several hundred pupils of the Illinois School for the Deaf and Illinois School for the Blind, who attended the Great Sutton Shows as guests of the management and Amvet Post 100, Thursday afternoon. Everything was free to the pupils. They rode on the Merry-Go-Round, Ferris wheel and other devices to their hearts' content. They dined on popular soft drinks furnished by the Amvets and generous distributors. There wasn't a dull or unhappy moment the whole afternoon.

A small youngster who attends the School for the Blind was lifted by an Amvet from a horse on the Merry-Go-Round, after it stopped to take on a fresh load of passengers. "That's the first time I ever rode on a trapeze," the little fellow confided to the veteran. The Amvet who was helping to entertain the children was surprised that the child did not recognize the device on which he had been traveling 'round and 'round. Patiently the veteran explained the principles of the Merry-Go-Round. Then he placed the sightless child back on the wooden horse, which he caressed with his hands, getting a better idea of those dappled gray steeds which have carried so many youngsters over a circular route to happiness.

What It Means: Proposed Abandonment Of Alcatraz

Washington—Has Alcatraz outlived its usefulness? Fewer prisoners than ever before are now being held in the escape-proof federal prison in San Francisco Bay, and it's very expensive to operate—$8 a day to maintain each desperate inmate—called by criminals "Klon-guest." In other federal prisons the "bean money" is only $3.

But the main consideration is the restraining effect of Alcatraz on the inmates of other jails and on men outside who might be plotting a great crime and yet decide against it because of their dread of "The Rock."

The issue is now being pondered by the House Judiciary committee. James V. Bennett, director of the U. S. Bureau of Prisons, has made no firm recommendation. He has only pointed out that one or more federal prisons must be closed to keep within the proposed budget that operation costs at Alcatraz are excessively high but that the psychological factor behind Alcatraz is the big question-mark.

Abandonment of Alcatraz wouldn't be a total saving in any case. The federal government still would have to establish in one of its 25 other prisons a "maximum security block" where incorrigible prisoners could be kept safely and apart from other prisoners for which there is some hope of rehabilitation. All large penal institutions have such dangerous inmates—called by criminals "Klon-guests." "Siberias," "solitary" or "deadlock."

Alcatraz was established in 1934 when the government was at the peak of its battle against kidnappers, racketeers, bank robbers and other criminals. Hosts of the underworld were slain or imprisoned.

By 1939 J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was able to say that not one nationally organized gang was left.

What part did Alcatraz play in the victory? Will criminals become bolder if there is no more Alcatraz? No one really knows. That's why congress intends to do a lot of thinking before it lets Alcatraz go.

As to whether Alcatraz, or any other prison, deters criminals, Director Bennett has only two broad convictions: (1) That they do not deter those who commit accidental crime or crimes of passion, psychopaths or alcoholics; (2) That they do deter many persons who are tempted to do such things as steal or file fraudulent tax returns. "But whether it deters the average criminal," says Bennett, "the prison system is the only system we know."

Of one thing he is sure: That all hardened criminals live in mortal fear of winding up on Alcatraz. He permits no brutality against inmates there, but prisoners are allowed the minimum of privileges, and the discipline is more severe than in any other American institution.

Those who enter it have no hope of delivery or parole. No one has ever escaped, although two men once did dive into the cold swift currents that sweep the rock. They are believed to have drowned. No one has ever been paroled direct from Alcatraz. Men can, however, work their way back to some other prison by years of good behavior.

Alcatraz now has 228 prisoners—nearly all of whom Bennett knows personally. This is 26 per cent fewer than the peak year, 1933. The total population of all federal prisons is now about the same as in that year, a little more than 17,000. Apparently there is now a smaller proportion of the hardened, intractable, desperate type who need the Alcatraz treatment.

The chief reasons Alcatraz is so costly are that it requires one custodian to every two prisoners (instead of one to five as in other prisons) and that there is no water on the island. All water has to be transported by barge from the mainland. Even soil has to be shipped to the Rock if a warden decides to raise a few flowers or vegetables. Alcatraz cost $3,000,000, and it would cost $7,000,000 to replace it. No other government agency wants it says Bennett, so if abandoned it would soon deteriorate in the briny air. If the doors finally swing open, the sea gulls and the fog will soon take over the dank halls where Al Capone and his henchmen lived their longest years.

Everett, recreational co-chairman. The retiring officers are Miss Ina Brock, president; Darrell Mansfield, vice president; Miss Mary Sue Thibaud, secretary; Dickie Reynolds, treasurer; Miss Carol Ann Davis, reporter; and Henry Schmidt and Pauline Gruether, recreational co-chairman.

The instillation ceremony was supervised by Mrs. Cleatus Reynolds, leader of the Berdan Busy Bee 4-H club.

The members of the Berdan Busy Bees club also presented a skit entitled, "Lost and Found." Miss Martha Wehrly of Kane gave two readings. The recreational program was given by a group from Macoupin county, with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gates as supervisors.

Following the recreational program in which over one hundred young people participated, refreshments were served.

IMPLEMENT DEALERS MEET AT ALEXANDER

Thirteen Oliver dealers from Morgan, Sangamon, Montgomery and Christian counties held a field day on Friday at the George and Harold Cockin farm east of Alexander when they turned out to see the new line of Oliver tractors and plows turn under 40 acres of sweet clover. R. E. Thomas, formerly of Sikes, was in general charge of the day. Mr. Thomas will be the new block man for this area, with the photograph shows a group of farmers and dealers looking at the TNT plow, which has two additional small shares designed to break up a compact plowsole.

Meeting Held By Manchester Class

A social period followed, during which refreshments were served. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Nettie Barber, Mrs. Claude Martin and Robert Earber of Roodhouse; Mrs. Howard Hurrelbrink and Mrs.

Clyde Blakeman of Jacksonville; and Mrs. George Cooper and Mrs. Ivan Wright of Manchester.

Four generations attending Mother-Daughter banquet held at State Street Presbyterian church Friday night received sincere applause from the other 135 women and girls who were present. It isn't every day that four generations attend a Mother-Daughter banquet.
The men of the church prepared and served the dinner. "Fried chicken with all the trimmings." The chickens were furnished by Leroy Jackson of Jackson Feed Mill and prepared by him and Gail B. Ranson.
Mrs. Ray Patterson, president of the Woman's Organization, had general charge of the occasion and Mrs. J. C. Colton was the toastmistress.
The program included the invocation by Mrs. C. L. Rice, greetings from Mrs. Colton, a vocal solo by Mrs. Lewis N. Raymond accompanied by Mrs. E. C. Bone, a tribute to our mothers by Marjorie Ranson and the response to our daughters by Mrs. E. D. Canatsey. Carmen Olsen played a piano solo and the Rev. Lewis N. Raymond showed several short movies.

Spring Prom Held By Students Of ISB Friday Night

The high school students of the Illinois School for the Blind held their annual spring prom Friday evening at the school.
The decorations, made by several of the students under the direction of Mrs. Janie Wegehoff, featured a colorful canopy of strips of crepe paper stretching across the entire auditorium. Silver stars added a special touch to the decorative scheme, as did the hand-made flowers which adorned the rose trellis at the entrance.
Dancing to the music of Boots Brennan and his orchestra was enjoyed during the evening. Refreshments, part of which were made in the I.S.B. home economics department, were served. Mrs. Ella Bruce assisted the students with the refreshments.
About 50 young people, all in formal attire, were present. The cottage parents and faculty members were guests.
Pictures of "shooting stars" have shown that the density of the atmosphere 45 miles or so above the earth increases in summer and decreases in winter.

If curtains are to be starched, it's a good idea to dip all the curtains from one room in starch at the same time so that you get an equal amount of crispness in the fabric.

"Homeless Cosmopolitan" Is New Red Whipping Boy

New York—They have a new whipping boy in Moscow. He is the "homeless cosmopolitan." He is blasted as one who considers himself a "world citizen." He is suspected of being a shield for such ideas as a world government or a united states of the world. Some observers outside Soviet Russia detect a trend of antisemitism in the rage against cosmopolitans.

It there has been any doubt about how the Soviet Union would feel about the idea of the United World Federalists for a World Government it can be put to rest by the words of academician M. Mitin of the Learned Council of the Institute of Philosophy writing in the "Literary Gazette" of Moscow, "or a Russian to speak of world citizenship is for him to be a traitor." Mitin says: "What is a homeless cosmopolite? Let Mitin explain:

"The homeless cosmopolitans constitute that anti-patriotic group among us which attempted to undermine the foundations of socialist culture and which conducted its subversive work against everything new, Soviet and communist in our literature, music, theater and cinema." The cosmopolitan brand is not confined to those fields. It has been applied also to scientists who do not follow the party line religiously, and to architects who are infected with western ideas.

This is what "Pravda" calls "fawning before the rotting bourgeois culture of the British-American imperialists." By Pravda's reasoning expressed in several right deviationist, such as Leon Trotsky, or a nationalist deviationist, such as Yugoslavia's Marshall Tito, is more fearsome in the Soviet lexicon. Trotsky did not think Soviet socialism could succeed in one country and held that the drive for world revolution was paramount.

Tito is a nationalist deviationist. That is, he has not bowed to Soviet dictates on how to tread the road to communism in his country. For Yugoslavia, this is nationalism. But the Soviet union is frankly nationalist itself. Pravda says in an article on cosmopolitanism:

"Under the leadership of the Bolshevik party and the great Stalin, the Soviet people has created the most advanced social and political system in the world, and the most advanced culture—Soviet culture."

day, May 19, during library hours. This project is under the sponsorship of the Ashland Woman's club.

The public is invited to view this group of original paintings which is entitled "Caravan of Paintings." The group will be circulated to ten communities within a fifty mile radius of Springfield.

Tom Cavanaugh, director of the Springfield Art association, says the caravan is an "experimental venture to present these towns with an opportunity to see the work being done by non-professional artists, such as housewives, business men and state workers and thereby stimulate similar art activity in the places where the exhibit is shown."

To those communities showing sufficient interest in the project, an exhibit from the Art Association's children's classes will be circulated this fall.

On Tuesday, May 17, the Art committee of the Woman's club, will hold a tea in the library basement from 3 to 5 p. m.

AN UPRIGHT BACKYARD GARDEN

If your backyard is small and cinder-filled and your family likes early vegetables and tomatoes, perhaps a circular, tiered garden is the answer. Joe Reiser of 903 S. Main street built one this spring. He likes it fine. It has furnished an abundance of green onions, radishes and lettuce and promises to provide more than enough mature Bermuda onions and tomatoes for a family of two.

The garden was constructed this way: first an upright water pipe was installed. It's fastened to a garden hose and tipped with an adjustable puzzle. Four bands of sheet iron, ranging from eight to two feet in diameter hold nearly a truckload of good black loam. The whole affair is bigger than it looks. For example, six bunches of Bermuda onion plants were required to plant the bottom tier. True, they're a little too close now, but Mr. Reiser is pulling the center row for table use. This will allow plenty of room for the rest to mature.

He's got enough radishes in the second row to feed an army, and nearly that much lettuce on the third tier. Four potted Marglobe tomatoes are blooming in the upper ring.

The backyard gardener has planted six hybrid tomatoes among the radishes. They aren't exactly flourishing now, but will have plenty of room as soon as the radishes are gone. Then he plans to build a lattice mounted on four stakes. The ten supported plants should provide plenty of tomatoes until frost.

Mr. Reiser has been using considerable commercial fertilizer which he thinks is going to be O.K. if the plants get enough water. He admits, though, that he gave the onions a little too much plant food. Their browned tips indicate he's right, but they're coming along well now.

Mr. Reiser estimates the cost of the backyard project at "around $10," plus the hauling of the dirt from his place near New Berlin.

Tunnel Blast Shows U.S. What Could Happen In War

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(P)—The explosion of a chemical-laden truck in the Holland tunnel gave America a needed peacetime lesson of what could happen in war.

It was a small-scale example of how vulnerable a great city is today.

The Holland vehicular tunnel runs beneath the Hudson river and joins Manhattan and Jersey City. It has twin tubes, each more than 9,500 feet long.

The accidental blast tied up traffic in the west-bound tube a few hours, halted traffic in the east bound tube more than a day. It temporarily interrupted news, television, telephone and wirephoto circuits.

But what would happen if a band of desperate, highly trained men made a determined attempt to knock out New York City? This thought keeps police officials nervous about the activities of political groups who believe in changing governments by force.

Five Bombs Could Do It
It has been estimated that as few as five atom bombs, properly placed, would render the metropolis nearly helpless.

But it wouldn't require atom bombs to plunge the city into a period of chaos. An internal fifth column of revolutionary technicians could conceivably accomplish this objective—for a time. For vital hours or days they might slow or nearly halt the pulsing heart of the greatest city ever built.

That heart is Manhattan, where huge corporations headquarters in the tallest towers beneath the sky.

This small island is the most intricate thing ever devised by the mind and labor of man. It is a few square miles of beauty, ugliness, life and death, poverty and wealth. But it is very important to all America. It is more than just an artificial orchard on the land, more than a parasite on the rest of the nation.

It Creates and Absorbs
With its vast port and its many talents, it gives as well as takes, creates as well as absorbs. Like other cities it is no longer just a blight on the countryside. It clothes the farmers who feed it, and it sends them cash and radio programs in exchange for their corn. They depend on it as it depends on them.

But like all complicated things, it is easily disturbed and can't reproduce itself well. Cut an arm off a starfish and the starfish will grow another arm. And the severed arm will grow another starfish.

Manhattan—or any other big city—isn't so facile at repairing itself. It is as dependent on supplies as the human brain is on blood.

Might Not Die, But It Would Faint
The arteries that feed Manhattan are a system of some 30 channels that include the Holland tunnel, public utility tubes, vehicular and railway tunnels and bridges. They join it west, north and east to New Jersey, the Bronx and Long Island. Choke those channels or destroy them and Manhattan would black out like the brain deprived of blood. It might not die—but it would certainly faint.

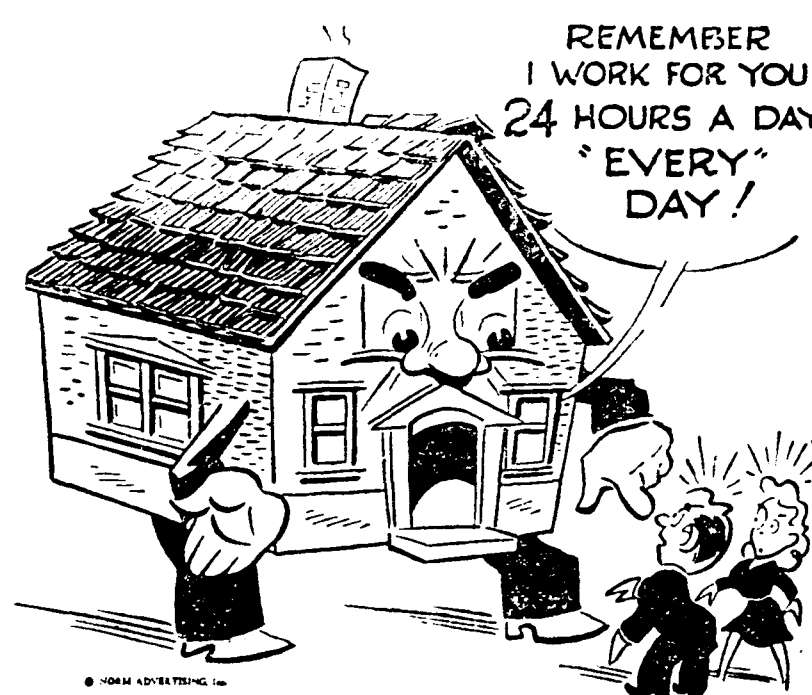

It is within the range of possibility that a band of fanatic men could attack and destroy, or at least interrupt, these 30 channels simultaneously—and stir wide panic. And who is there to say that such a thing never will be attempted in an insecure world?

The lesson of the Holland tunnel blast is the same as that of the Texas city explosion. Now is the time for all wise cities—and nations—to set up systems to protect themselves against disasters, designed or accidental.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, May 14.—(P)—A $17.65 to $19.00 price range was quoted for hogs today, unchanged from yesterday's market. Cattle and sheep also were unchanged.

Despite some easiness in whole sale pork, with cured items down as much as $4.00, hog prices advanced 25 to 50 cents this week. The agriculture department said the gain "was largely the result of moderate to short receipts."

Prices in the cattle section generally worked higher and a top of $28.00 was paid for high choice Colorado fed steers. Average price for all beef steers gained 15 cents to $24.47, which was still far under the average of $30.79 a year ago.

Slaughter lambs closed the week steady to 25 cents higher. Receipts were only one-third as large as a week earlier.

New York Stock Market

New York, May 14.—(P)—Copper stocks pulled in front of the stock market again today, with the railroad group a close second.

Rising tendencies cropped out elsewhere but business was slow and advances small.

Gains for coppers and rails ranged to around a point.

It was the second day running that coppers dominated the market. Buying was stimulated Friday by reports that users of raw copper had finally placed some orders after waiting for weeks for prices to drop.

Refined copper, in the meantime, nosed down from a post-war high of 23 cents a pound to 18 cents during the week.

Curtis-Wright supplied a good deal of action at a higher price for a while but later subsided.

Turnover for the market generally was at the rate of around 300,000 shares for the two-hour session.

Higher prices were paid for Phelps Dodge, Kennecott, Anaconda, Cerro de Pasco, American Smelting, Santa Fe, Illinois Central, U. S. Steel (old), Montgomery Ward and American Telephone.

Holding bids were General Electric, Owens-Illinois, American Woolen, Mission Corp., and General Motors.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly. U. S. government bond dealers, as usual, took Saturday off.

Barnd, Staples Vault 12 Feet At Pana Meet

Track and field athletes from Carrollton high school scored 174 points in the district meet Friday at Pana, Ill., winning third place in the big event, which was captured by Springfield high school. Carrollton made the strongest showing among four Illinois Valley Conference schools in the meet.

Springfield amassed a total of 28 points, but was pushed closely by Brownstown with 27. White Hall finished ninth with 61 points, and Roodhouse got 11 points. Greenfield, the fourth Valley contender, did not score.

Barnd of White Hall and Staples of Carrollton collaborated to set a new meet record for the pole vault by ascending 12 feet, seven-eighths inch. Their performance went into the books as a tie.

Barnett of Roodhouse took fifth in the high jump; B. Roodhouse of White Hall, fourth in shotput; Edings of Carrollton, third in shotput; Boe of Carrollton, third in high jump; Mehroff of Carrollton, third in 220 yard dash.

Several other Illinois Valley schools sent track and field teams to the Macomb district meet Saturday.

Chicago Cubs Whip Cincinnati Reds In 13-1 Contest

Cincinnati, May 14.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs, aided by a pair of homers and five walks, paraded seven runners across the plate in the fourth inning today and went on to bury the Cincinnati Reds under a 13-1 score, giving Dutch Leonard his first victory of the season.

The Chicago knuckleball artist was in command throughout. He gave up five hits, fanned five and didn't issue a walk until the ninth.

Starter Johnny Vander Meer and Ewell Blackwell were the victims of the Chicago onslaught in the fourth. After one out, Andy Patko homered and Peanuts Lowery did the same.

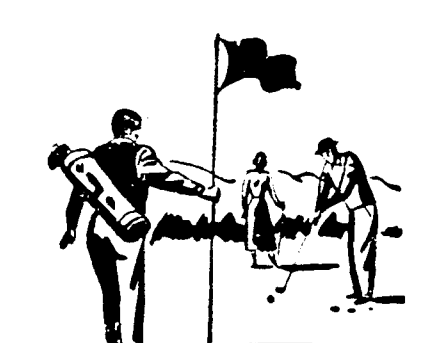

Vandy lost control and walked two before Leonard sent a one-run single to left. Blackwell was called in after Vander Meer filled the bases with another walk. Blackie forced in two more runs with a pair of walks and Patko singled in the final markers of the inning.

The Cubs clipped Blackwell for two more runs in the fifth and sent him to the showers in the sixth as the first two batters singled.

Harry Walker rounded out the Chicago scoring with a two-run homer in the ninth.

GOLFING KNOW-HOW

By Bob Munk

An important phase of playing golf is to stand correctly. The stance varies with the player and the club. As no definite set rule can apply, the player should understand the fundamental principles of the stance. Then he can easily work it out for himself.

First you should stand naturally as though you were talking to some one you liked, not in a tension as if you wanted to hit him on the head with a club. A player may get that tense feeling because that is what he intends to try to do to the golf ball. But don't worry, the ball won't mind at all.

Most good players have come to regard a square stance as the basic position. The principle is that if you open your stance it will restrict your back swing but make your follow through easier. If you close your stance, it makes the back swing easier but tends to restrict your follow through. Many star players open the stance on short shots merely because with a short swing, not much turn is required on the back swing. Some close their stance on long woods to make it easier to get the club into hitting position on a longer back swing.

However, these variations are not too important and I recommend staying with the square stance at least until you feel a reason for changing. The important thing is to be in a position where your swing will be most effective. More next week.

Note—For explanation of technical terms see any golf book or your golf instructor.

Capot Snaps Track Record To Take Preakness Race

Baltimore, May 14.—(P)—Capot sizzled through a light shower to a new track record today as he won the Preakness stakes by the margin of a damp head in one of the most thrilling finishes in the long history of the classic.

The Green tree stable three-year-old star, second in last week's Kentucky Derby, showed them who was boss this time as he outdistanced Igor Bier's Palestinian in the drive for the wire in the mile and three sixteenths event.

Crispin Osleberry's Noble Impulse was third, Calumet Farm's Derby winner—Ponate—never got in the act and wound up fifth in the field of nine starters. Mrs. E. H. Ellison Jr.'s Sun Banham was fourth.

The 73rd Preakness turned into a double photo finish. The judges had to look at the pictures to decide for certain that Capot had the call over Palestinian.

Then they peered at the photographs again to put Noble Impulse officially in third place.

Capot, given a brilliant ride by jockey Teddyc Atkinson, blazed under the wire in 1:56 flat, winning two-fifths of a second off the track record set by Riverland in the 1943 Dixie handicap.

J.H.S. DIDN'T WIN

The sports department of the Journal-Courier and J.H.S. officials wish to apologize to the Meredosia high school baseball team for the mistake which appeared in Friday's paper.

The local nine did not win the game as was reported by your sports editor. The outcome, which was printed as a 4-1 victory for the Crimsons, was actually a 1-1 tie. The game was called because of rain before the Meredosia team had taken its turn at bat.

Sportsman's Club Erecting Lights At Meredosia

Merodosia—Thanks to the Meredosia Sportsman's club, work was begun here Saturday that will enable local softball and trapshooting fans to enjoy these two sports around the clock, if they are so inclined. The club is erecting lights at the softball diamond located just north of the high school and at the shooting range one-half mile north of town on the Meredosia lake road.

Nineteen special light fixtures will be installed on creosoted poles. Four of the poles are 50 feet long, four are 40 and the balance are 35 feet.

Preliminary plans have been made for a full summer softball schedule here.

Boston Takes 12 Inning Thriller From Brooks 7-6

Boston, May 14.—(P)—Sibby Sisti's pinch-hit single drove in Jim Russell with the 12th inning run that gave the Boston Braves a 7-6 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight before a 25,924 crowd. It enabled the National League champions to continue in a first place tie with the New York Giants.

The Braves opened as if they were going to make it a runaway for starter Bill Voiselle. But Gil Hodges put the Dodgers into a 5-4 lead in the eighth with a grand slam homer and in the top of the 12th Duke Snider gave them a 6-5 advantage by scoring on Jackie Robinson's triple. Snider now has hit safely in 16 straight games. Rex Barney, third of the four Brooklyn pitchers in this second overtime engagement in as many nights, wound up as the losing pitcher and Nelly Potter, the third Boston hurler, was credited with his third relief victory.

Rickett took over first base in the eighth after Earl Torgerson suffered a left shoulder separation throwing a rolling block on Robinson in an unsuccessful effort to break up a double play.

Torgerson was removed to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where Dr. Joseph Shortell reported he would subject the left-handed first baseman to surgery.

The specialist explained that Torgerson would be out of action from six to eight weeks under less drastic treatment.

J.H.S. Golfers Place Seventh In Local District

Local prep golfers failed to qualify for the state play-offs in the Jacksonville district golf tournament staged on the Nichols park greens Saturday. The state meet is slated for Champaign next weekend.

The Quincey tilters topped the high school field with a team low of 319 points. A Springfield high school foursome ran second with a total of 336 points for the 18 hole session.

The Jacksonville high school entered placed seventh in the 12-team field. Eddie got an 81 to lead the local quartette.

A. J. Spreen and Sonny Loneragan, representing Routt high school, put on a credible individual performance even though they were ineligible to qualify for the team prize. Spreen circled the course in 82 strokes and Loneragan followed up with 87.

Top individual honors went to Robert Galasse, Lanphier, who shot a 69; Kenneth Rider, Quincy, with a 74; John Williams, Pittsfield, 75; Jim Frisna, Taylorville, 76.

The first seven teams in the order which they placed were Quincy, Springfield, Taylorville, Alton, Western Military of Macomb, Notre Dame of Quincy and J.H.S.

Eddleman Named 'Athlete Of Year' By Daily Illini

Champaign, Ill., May 14.—(P)—Dike Eddleman last night was declared winner of the 10th annual "athlete of the year" contest sponsored by the Daily Illini, student publication at the University of Illinois.

Eddleman, who lives in Centralia, Ill., lettered in football, basketball, and track. He piled up 11,251 points in the campus poll. Second was Jim Marks, basketball player, who had 5,978.

A total of 2,861 ballots was cast by students and faculty members.

Only Andy Phillip, star basketball player now with the Chicago Stags, has duplicated Dike's feat of winning two years in a row. Andy did it in 1942 and 1943.

Brownies Defeat Tigers 8 To 3

St. Louis, May 14.—(P)—With Roy Sievers slamming the ball and Al Papi doing the mound work, the St. Louis Browns moved back into the victory column today with a 8-3 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Sievers got his first major league homer in the sixth inning with Dick Kokos on base to break up a 2-2 tie. Sievers then doubled in the seventh frame to send home Jack Graham and Kokos.

Papi left 14 Tigers stranded on the bases.

Giants Wallop Phillies 12 To 2

New York, May 14.—(P)—The New York Giants cracked base hits like pop corn at the Polo Grounds today as they thundered to a 12-2 conquest over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Johnny Mize, Whizzer Lockman and Willard Marshall spearheaded the 16-hit attack with homers. Marshall, who drove in three runs, also stroked three singles while Bobby Thomson chipped in with a single and triple. Every Giant hit safely except Preiner Sheldon Jones and Augie Galan, who didn't have an opportunity to bat.

Bill Nicholson homered for the Phils in the second.

Crimson Club Drops Twin-Bill To Feitshans; Open District Monday

Bob Kraushaar's Crimsons dropped both ends of a twin-bill to the Feitshans high school nine on the Springfield diamond Saturday afternoon.

The locals escaped a shut-out in the opening contest when they pushed a single run across the plate in the fourth inning. The Feitshans club notched a total of 7 tallies during the seven inning session to win the tilt hands down.

Wright, Jacksonville's freshman twirler, pitched a credible ball game in the first contest. He allowed only 5 Springfield batters to hit safely. However, loose play afield spelled defeat for the locals.

The nightcap was called at the end of the fifth frame after the Feitshans sluggers had accumulated a total of 16 runs. The J.H.S. crew had only 3 tallies.

"Butch" Bunch started the contest on the mound for Kraushaar's club. He was replaced by Gano in the second inning. Both boys had

Blueboys Dump Moose Nine 24-7 In Benefit Game

The Illinois College nine swamped the Jacksonville Moose baseball club 24 to 7 in a benefit game played on the Russell field diamond Saturday afternoon.

The tilt, which was staged for the benefit of I.C. student J.J. DeLaPaz who broke his leg in an intra-mural softball game recently, was considered a rousing success.

The college administration, athletic department and the student himself, wish to express their sincere thanks to all who helped make a success of the benefit contest.

The game itself was equally successful for the college club. The blueboys scored in every frame in totaling their 24 tallies. They drove five Moose twirlers from the mound with their stinging bats.

Jay-Cee Girls Win Home Opener Against Macomb

The Jay-Cee Girls' softball club romped to a 6-1 victory over the Macomb Biscuiters on the Jacksonville sod Saturday night. The game was the first of the season for the Jacksonville lassies.

The local girls notched four big runs in their half of the first inning and from then on had things pretty much their own way.

Bert Lauder handcuffed the Macomb femmes for four straight innings before letting up in the fifth and allowing a single enemy run to score.

After the 4-run spurge in the initial chapter, the Jay-Cee nine added a brace of counters in the second—then were held to goose-eggs the remainder of the game after Macomb hurler, Smith, suddenly found the plate and spun a much improved ball game.

Phillips, Jay-Cee catcher, was the big gun in the winners' hitting attack. She nicked the Macomb twirler for two hits in three times at bat.

Two good games are on hand for local fans this evening. The Jacksonville House of Clay nine enters tonight Phillips 66 of Roodhouse in the 7:30 p. m. contest and the local Miers Bros. club tangles with the Foxit Shop club of Springfield in the 8:45 nightcap.

In the preliminary Saturday night, Clint Arenz' Coca Cola Jrs. edged the Muravville Ramblers 9 to 7 in a 6-inning fracas.

Duke Nalon Takes Pole Position For Speedway Race

Indianapolis, May 14.—(P)—The biggest pre-race crowd in Indianapolis Motor Speedway history—variously estimated at 40,000 to 80,000—saw all this today:

1. Duke Nalon, Sherman Oaks, Calif., drove his $75,000 Novi Model special almost 133 miles an hour to take the pole position for the 500-mile race May 30.

2. Bill Cantrell, Louisville, boat racer and salvage diver, set a new 10-mile speedway record of 125.02 miles an hour for a semi-stock car. He drove the bus-engine-powered Fagel twin-coach special.

3. The 13 qualifiers were so fast that Mauri Rose of South Bend, Ind., the "500" winner the last two years, was shoved clear back to the ninth starting position—the outside of the third row.

4. The bottoms fell out of two boxes in grandstand "B," injuring two persons severely and 27 others less seriously. Only 12 people were supposed to be in the boxes.

The tremendous crowd turned out to see a battle between the Novis and the Blue Crown specials, but the race against time was no contest.

Women In Democracy Club Breakfast Topic

Women's place in democracy was the theme of Mrs. Lawrence Paset's address given before members of the Jacksonville Women's club at their annual May breakfast held Saturday in the banquet room of the Dunlap hotel.

Mrs. Paset referred to the contention that "Woman's place is in the home," asserting that the home could be no more secure than the community, the state no more secure than the nation, and the nation no more secure than the world.

It is woman's responsibility to curb the tide of petty intolerance and trifling which is so detrimental to world peace and security. Her role as mother places woman in an ideal position to achieve this objective, declared Mrs. Paset.

"People are the same at heart the difference lies in their culture," is this conflict of culture which women must strive to avert.

She discussed the functions of democracy in state and national government, pointing out that democracy does not exist where majority rule is ignored.

World conditions today, said the speaker in conclusion, present a challenge to women — a challenge which women must condition themselves, through the development of leadership, to meet adequately.

Preceding Mrs. Paset's address, a program of vocal selections, which included "Il Bacio," "Spring Singing" and "Iris," was presented by Mrs. Ethlyn Cuddy, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mae Hecker.

Mrs. Fletcher J. Blackburn, the retiring president, conducted the final business session of the club year. An impressive memorial service was held for the four club members who passed away during the year. Mrs. A. L. Adams, Mrs. Ruth Floreth, Mrs. Tom Scott and Mrs. Paul Green.

Special recognition was given the retiring officers by Miss Charlotte Sieber, acting in behalf of the past presidents of club.

Spring flowers decorated the tables. The breakfast committee was headed by Mrs. Vernon Scholfield, Mrs. Rex Ranson and Mrs. Floyd Hess.

The hostesses were Mrs. T. R. Baker, Mrs. Thomas Butler, Mrs. Willard Cody, Mrs. Bernard Camm, Mrs. H. R. Covey, Mrs. Harold Gibson, Mrs. Van Hunter, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Russell Jones, Mrs. Carl Martin, Mrs. C. Don Ransdell, Mrs. Viron Ranson and Mrs. Lester Reed.

The club will resume its activities with the annual October luncheon.

Stevenson Forces Will Try To Move Budget Next Week

Springfield, Ill., May 14 —(AP)—Governor Stevenson's legislative forces will bend their main efforts next week to getting his stalled budget on the move again.

The $1,273,000,000 two year spending plan hit a snag in the senate last Tuesday. GOP majority senators objected to allotments for new state passenger cars, and major departmental appropriations were hung up.

Then, on orders from the governor, code department chiefs got busy refiguring car needs.

A compromise solution in which many auto items will be whittled down seems in the offing to start the appropriations rolling once more.

In the house, the democratic administration's fair employment practices bill may be called for a passage roll call.

Law makers for and against the anti job discrimination proposal agree that its chances for approval are a good deal brighter than in previous sessions. FEPC was defeated in 1943, 1945 and 1947.

The current exhibition is one in which all Jacksonville people will be interested and one of which they can be justly proud. It is the work of students in the local public elementary, junior high and senior high schools.

'Clumsiness' Is Serious Charge

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

The most serious indictment of a woman's charms is made when you say that she is clumsy.

As serious as this charge is, no one who travels on packed public conveyances or walks into crowded buildings can fail to level it at many women.

A man's clumsiness is quite often excused. A woman's never is. There seems to be more of an obligation upon a woman's part to discipline her hands and feet.

The woman who hasn't educated her hands not to jab bus passengers with her umbrella or her feet not to trample over everything in her path as she teeters down the aisle needs badly to train these clumsy members.

The need would be to realize that hands and feet are pushovers for mischief, unless their owner watches over them. Control over any wild tendencies to jab other people or step on them is necessary until a woman can feel confident of the good behavior of her feet and hands in crowded places, and again in the more intimate social gatherings where their bad behavior is certain to annoy friends.

Afternoon Tea Boosts Morale

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The pleasant custom of serving afternoon tea may seem to be an impractical idea for a busy housewife to consider. But a friend of mine claims that a cup of tea gracefully served and leisurely sipped in the company of a friend or two is well worth the time taken away from tasks.

She says that she has found the cup of tea to be a pleasant stimulus and a means of restoring flagging energy. As important, she claims, is the boost to your morale that a few social moments with a cup of tea can give after a day of driving yourself from chore to chore.

To get the most of these moments of respite, don't gulp down the pick-up beverage in the kitchen, warns our tea-drinker. Instead, she suggests serving tea from your prettiest china in the living room or on the terrace—a practice that is guaranteed to make you feel as pampered as a duchess, she says.

To keep teatime hospitality from becoming more work than pleasure, our mentor's final tip is to limit refreshments to the simplest cookies or crackers.

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THE STORY: Four new arrivals on an island escape the clutches of a madman. The new arrivals consist of a small group which was shipwrecked off shore. Fred Sillwell, the leader of the group, is grumpy and Lilly Warren, one of Harding's original acquaintances, says it's because he is not used to doing without liquor and tries to deal with Bea Cosgrove, who is in charge of supplies, to get him some. Bea refuses and goes with George Bascombe, Sillwell's aide, to search for a pair of binoculars on the beach. He finds them and discovers that Bea Cosgrove is more beautiful and not an old as he had been led to believe.

XII

GEORGE capered up and down the beach, pulling at timbers, rescuing odds and ends, and screaming back at protesting sea birds. He stopped suddenly, pulled a heavy wooden case from the grip of the sand. He stood staring down at it until Bea walked over to him. "Whiskey," George said reverently. "The Gullwing really broke up all right. Here's a part of her ballast!"

"There's another. And another," Bea pointed. "Our fortune is made," George said. "It's simple as ABC. A. We have found the whiskey. B. Sillwell loves whiskey. C. Sillwell has money in that belt of his. But it's his money, isn't it?"

George Bascombe rolled off the case onto the sand. He clutched his stomach, released his hold and pounded gently with his fists. "What a character! All right you got your belly laugh. You rolled 'em in the aisles. So I'll put it on another plane for you. I'll appeal to your sense of humor. Think how much fun it would be to sell old pal Sillwell his own whiskey, at well say $100 a bottle. Isn't that funny? Or do you think two hundred would be funnier?"

Miss Cosgrove said, "I don't want any part of it. But I won't stop you, if you want to do that to your friend."

"He plays for keeps," George amended. "And he always has plenty of money. That's where I come in. I hang around him and do this and that and a few crumbs come my way." He laughed. "That's it! I get the crumbs from the rich man's table." Bea corrected automatically.

"Not with Fred," Bascombe said. "Now look, you don't happen to know a safe place we could stow the booty away? So I could dish it out a bottle at a time and not flood the market?"

"I know a place," Bea said slowly. "A cave."

"Let's get going then."

"We'll need a light."

"I saw a couple cases of matches," George said. "They'll be all right. Everything on the Gullwing was waterproofed. She was a wet boat."

BEA found the matches and led the way up the trail to the Cave of Gaspas with George puffing behind her with a case of whiskey.

Between Bascombe's trips Bea Cosgrove used the matches for exploration. Beside the small cul-de-sac near the entrance were two more short side passages that led only a few feet back from the main cave. The floor was covered with fine white sand, undisturbed, until a hundred feet from the entrance the floor dropped too sharply and was of bare, slippery rock.

She tossed lighted matches down the steep incline until one burned long enough in the still air for her to get a fleeting impression of the long drop ending in a huge rock around its balanced base.

She was in the cave entrance when George came up with the last of six cases. His face was lobster colored.

"That's all I can do," he said. "There's a couple more but we'll let Harding have them. Who else knows about this cave?"

"Harding," Bea said. "I don't know of any others. But it's got a bad name. It's haunted."

"Oh fine," George said. He laughed. "Well, it's a good place then to lay the spirits. That's a joke, son."

"Very funny," Bea admitted.

"There's one thing you've forgotten though. Your competition."

"Lilly Warren?" She can't steal enough to keep Fred partway human and she charged him plenty."

MABEL JONES divided her time between the care of her flock of sheep and care of Mollie Stark Bea Cosgrove sometimes heard them laughing together.

She finally asked the older woman a blunt question. "You like Mollie, don't you?"

Mabel Jones smiled. "He likes her. Anyone can see that. But he's worried too."

"What do you think?"

"Don't get me wrong," Mabel said quickly. "I'm just as anxious as you are to marry Harding and spend the rest of my life on his island. Maybe more anxious. I'm ugly, but I've buried two husbands. I had to learn long ago a man must have his 'bit of fluff.'"

Miss Cosgrove looked at her in surprise. "Somehow I wouldn't have expected you to be so cynical."

"Not cynical, practical," Mabel Jones corrected. "A man'll lose his head over a girl like Mollie. But there's more to marriage than that. There's looking out for the man and working for him. Yes, and there's cheering him up after he gets hurt by someone like that girl."

"I don't see why you tell me these things."

"No reason why I should give away my plan of action—my campaign?" Mabel grinned. "Well, it isn't a plan you could follow. It'd be all or nothing with you."

"And you're not worried?"

"No," Mrs. Jones said. "I'm sure with you it'll be nothing."

Five-Point Margin Decides Winner Of Shooting Match

A difference of only five points separated the winning and losing teams in the weekly Rifle club shoot held Friday evening at Washington school.

The winning team, which scored 1445 points, was comprised of Friedrich Engelbach, 397 points; Mrs. H. Robbins 367; Fred Chadwick 358, and Robert Foster 341.

The losing team was led by John Marshall and Alvin Marshall, each scoring 368 points. Others on the team were Mrs. Robert Foster 359, and H. Robbins 345. The team's total was 1440 points.

This was the second recent shoot in which a five-point difference was the deciding margin. Each week matches are held between two teams, made up of shooters chosen on a basis of anticipated scores in order to match the teams as equally as possible.

New marksmen are invited to join the group and spectators are always welcome at the matches. Plans are underway for the establishment of an outdoor range for summer shooting.

HUSBAND, SONS SHARE ESTATE OF MRS. CRAIG

The will of the late Mrs. Olive Craig has been filed for probate, bequeathing all of her property to her husband, LeRoy Craig, and sons, William Harold and Byron Lewis Craig, in equal shares. The office of the estate superintendent of public instruction, the University of Chicago and the Jacksonville board of education.

Parents of pre-school blind children from throughout the state will attend the fourth annual institute to be held June 10 to 16 at the Illinois School for the Blind, in this city.

Fathers and mothers will be shown the benefits of accepting the blind child's handicap and of making normal plans for its education and growth.

Plans for the annual institute were announced by Fred K. Hoehler, state director of welfare.

"Unable to see, these children cannot imitate their elders, or others—one of the important forms of learning in the rearing of sighted boys and girls," Director Hoehler said. "Blind children must learn by experience, by doing and by venturing. Such subjects will be discussed and practically applied at the institute. Specialized devices and equipment will be demonstrated."

Formerly, Hoehler explained, it was called the institute for mothers of pre-school blind children, but fathers began to show up for the sessions. Last year, aside from 21 fathers, the institute was attended by 26 mothers with 26 children and 10 mothers whose children were too young to be taken to the course.

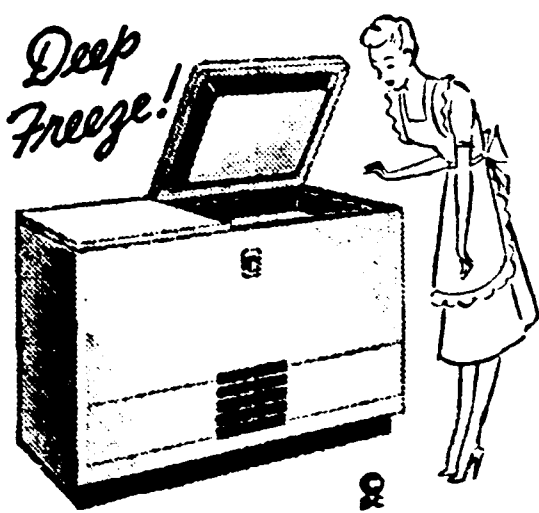

Talks are given by specialists in psychology, pediatrics, nutrition, problems of the handicapped child, and other areas related to normal development. Children from 2 to 5 years old, known to be blind, are eligible to attend with their parents and parents of younger boys and girls are urged to attend without their children.

There is no charge for attending. Lodging, meals and medical services are provided at the school for the blind for the duration of the institute. Co-sponsors with the welfare department are the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, the University of Chicago and the Jacksonville board of education.

English Chic

BY EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor

New York — (NEA) — The 1949 "Maid of Cotton" is back from her gypsy trek to England with her all-cotton wardrobe enriched by six British-designed dresses.

The international wardrobe of Sue Howell, King Cotton's goodwill ambassador, now boasts the pick of the cotton crop of the U. S. France Board of England, the "Maid" modeled her cotton duds and posed for photographers against historic London backgrounds.
